Coding Projects

Project 1 - Trivia Brews - Trivia Brews was the first project my group developed in order to play an interactive web trivia game. Each time the questions are randomized and after the questions are complete one will fill out where they live and it will provide a bar in order to inform the player on what they should drink.

Project 2 - Fitness Buddy - Application that runs front and back end that allows people to choose a workout plan based off of their choice of exercise goals. The app allows people to obtain a workout plan based off of models and seeds that were linked to run the data.
